Hungarian Workers Launch Strike Against Red Regime

Stoppage May Be Spreading Despite Kadar

BUDAPEST (P)—Tens of thousands of Hungarian workers today launched a widespread protest strike in defiance of the Russian-imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar.

Transportation in Budapest was badly crippled, but the work stoppage did not appear to be 100 per cent effective. Some business activity apparently was continuing under the pressure of guns of the Hungarian police and Soviet troops.

But many workers did not report to their factories or sat idle when they reached their posts.

The call to strike was 48 hours beginning last midnight was issued by the Budapest Central Workers' Council to protest the "antipeoples, antiworkers activities" of the government.

It was not immediately known how effective the strike appeal had proved in the provinces, although there were reports that stoppages had started yesterday in some outlying towns.

The government again clamped down with a partial blackout on long distance telephone service outside the country.

The Kadar government replied to the general strike call with new repressive measures, including a decree of martial law, the arrests of some worker leaders and a decree dissolving the Central Workers' Council and its regional bodies.

Refugees crossing into Austria from Hungary said the strike appeared to be spreading over the country despite Kadar's martial law decree and possible Soviet reprisals.

Hungarians who left Budapest by train Monday said workers all along the route reported they had been alerted to the strike appeal. Austrian railway workers returning from the Hungarian border station of Hegyeshalom reported that work in that town was at a complete standstill. The stationmaster at Nickelsdorf said he also had been told that a train scheduled to arrive there from Hungary would not be running.

The government-controlled Budapest radio broadcast repeated appeals to workers not to join in the "attack against the people."

The strike call went out as reports of new heavy fighting mounted.

Accounts reaching Belgrade said the Hungarian countryside had been swept by outbursts of partisan warfare in the past two days.

Give Saunders An Honorable AF Discharge

WASHINGTON (P)—The Air Force has decided to give an honorable discharge to Lt. Titus A. Saunders, a reserve officer who resigned amid disagreement over a 1954 conviction on a drunken driving charge.

When Saunders chose to resign Nov. 27, the Air Force said he would be given a general discharge. That comports honorable conditions, but it is less desirable than an honorable discharge.

Secretary of the Air Force Charles announced late yesterday that Saunders, a Negro, is being given an honorable discharge after study of his case by a discharge review board.

Saunders has said the Air Force was pressured by Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) to get rid of him—a contention disputed by Stennis and the Air Force. At his home in DeKalb, Miss., Stennis said he had no comment on the new action.

The Air Force has maintained it followed normal procedure in telling Saunders he had to resign or be dropped from the service because of his conviction on a drunken driving charge in Mississippi.

Big Airlift Of Refugees Starts Today

First of 10,000 To Be Flown to US Before Christmas

MUNICH, Germany (P)—Two hundred fugitives from Communist oppression in Hungary took off today for new lives in the United States at the start of one of history's most spectacular airlifts.

The group was the first of 10,000 refugees to be flown before Christmas to the United States in giant C-118 Air Force transports.

There were some tears but many more smiles as the fugitives, many of whom had never before left their homeland, departed across the ocean for a mysterious new land with little idea of what was in store for them.

Four planes took off today, carrying 50 women, 41 children and 109 men. They ranged in age from 6-month-old Johanna Toth to 57-year-old Etel Szabo.

The flight was to take 26 hours to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

From McGuire the refugees were to be taken to specially prepared Army barracks at nearby Camp Kilmer. Some hoped relatives, whom they had not seen or heard from in years, would help them find jobs. Others could trust only in a warm-hearted American response.

By the weekend, the schedule calls for 500 refugees to depart daily from the U.S. air base in Munich. The military transports are operating from West Germany rather than Austria to avoid any Soviet complaint that Austrian neutrality is being violated. Some 125,000 refugees have crossed from Hungary into tiny Austria in little more than six weeks.

Dulles Says Internal Pressures Behind Iron Curtain May Cause Communism Fall

PARIS (P)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today internal pressures behind the Iron Curtain may well topple Soviet communism and end the dangerous division of the globe.

He urged the foreign ministers of 15 Atlantic Pact countries assembled in conference here to use every form of moral pressure to assist these forces, which he said he has good reason to believe are undermining the Soviet system.

But the secretary, in a speech optimistic and almost religious in tone, warned that the threat of internal unrest might tempt Kremlin rulers to take some risks abroad as a diversion and thereby increase the threat of war.

Dulles, without directly mentioning British and French intervention in Egypt, denounced countries which deliberately resort to force as an instrument of national policy, even though they believe their cause to be just. He pleaded with all to maintain the United Nations and obey the moral principles of its charter.

If the countries of the world failed to do this, he declared, it would mean disaster. He said destruction of the U.N. or disregard of its principles would lead almost certainly to global war.

Dulles spoke at a closed session of NATO's Council of Ministers which was also addressed by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino and Norwegian Minister Halvard Lange.

The American statesman declared the Soviet Communist system is deteriorating and the power of its rulers disintegrating. He said this was seen in the lessening of the power of Communist parties in the free world, in satellite unrest and in internal pressures within the Soviet Union for more liberalization, intellectual freedom, personal security and personal enjoyment.

Dulles said Britain and France had obeyed U.N. decisions in the Middle East while the Russians flouted them in Hungary. He called this a double standard of morality.

No matter how impatient some countries might get with this situation, the secretary said, they should use restraint. Their example will increasingly grow in influence until Soviet despotism would find it impossible to go on living by standards which decent

Holidays Bring Out Endurance--

Wide Variety of Gifts Are Available for Santa Claus

This is the time of year people go around in circles, trying to have parties, go to parties, buy gifts, wrap gifts, bake cookies and cakes, do dozens of things that under ordinary conditions would wear them completely out—but Christmas time people seem to have more pep.

The stores this year seem to be helping the customers who are looking for those $1.00 gifts to take to the gift exchange. Never have there been so many things offered for a dollar, and the stores are tipping everybody off on where to find a dollar gift. They are advertising dollar gifts, putting them on special counters in their stores and trying to make things easier for the shoppers.

There are many very useful and some very clever things to be found for a dollar, too. Boxes of soap, and even boxes for 50 cents too, perfume atomizers, tiny compact, panties, hose, planters, snack sets, bowls, ties, just everything.

Furniture stores have many smaller items and of course there are always comfortable chairs, tables, lamps, pictures. Any housewife is always thrilled with something for the home.

Mirrors always make a nice gift and this year there are gilded frames in interesting shapes; there are gifted candelabra and candle holders, as well as those in silver and brass. For the bedrooms are ceramic dresser sets as dainty and feminine as a fairy princess. There are clocks of all kinds and all sizes, cameras and camera equipment for the camera fan, and dishes of all kinds.

Jewelry, whether it be expensive or just costume jewelry, and perfumes and powders delight the girls and women and they like to linger around these counters and like better to get them as gifts. For the kitchen there are cleaner cabinets in various colors for her soap powders, detergents, steel wool pads and soaps.

There are frying pans with fireproof glass lids that she can see what's cookin', there are spice sets and if the gift is bigger, refrigerators, gas stoves, or maybe a deep freeze.

For men and women, boys and girls, there are robes, slippers, pajamas and for women who like flimsy gowns the flimsiest, daintiest gowns imaginable.

There are boots for the square dancers, and ties and shirts, there are hats for men who wear hats, scarfs, dress shirts, plaid shirts, ties, suits and of course jewelry for men. There is the kangaroo keeper, that little old fellow who will sit on the chest of drawers and hold cuff links, key rings and bill (Please turn to page 4, column 6)

Surprise Move Is In Protest Of Interference In Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—The Hungarian delegation today walked out of the General Assembly in protest against what it called U. N. interference in Hungary's internal affairs.

The surprise move came as the 79-nation Assembly debated a U. S.-sponsored move to condemn the Soviet Union for refusing to withdraw its armed forces from Hungary.

Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath led his delegation from the room after charging that some delegations, influenced by the United States, "have attempted to interfere in Hungary's domestic affairs."

"We reject these attempts and shall continue to do so in the future," he said.

Horvath told newsmen later he planned to leave tomorrow for Budapest.

In his statement to the assembly, he declared that the U. N. had offended the Hungarian delegation in a way inconsistent with the honor of the Hungarian people.

"Therefore," he said, "the Hungarian delegation will not participate in the work of the General Assembly as long as the present situation continues."

After he left the room, Horvath went to the delegate's lounge for a coffee. Asked by reporters whether he intended to boycott the entire session of the Assembly or just the Hungarian debate, he said the boycott would continue as long as the assembly debates the Hungarian situation.

Meanwhile, India and her three closest Asian allies pressed a new proposal to get Russian troops out of Hungary by sending U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to Moscow for negotiations.

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon was the prime mover behind the new plan as the 79-nation General Assembly continued its latest debate on the rebellion in Hungary.

Ceylon, Indonesia and Burma joined in sponsoring the Indian resolution urging that Hammarskjold be sent to Budapest, and Moscow if necessary, to seek Russian withdrawal from the battered satellite.

Some Western diplomats contended the Indian resolution lacked the teeth of a U.S. resolution already before the Assembly. Backed by 17 nations, it would condemn the Soviet Union sharply for Hungary's plight.

Others thought, however, that a proposal from Asian nations Russia has been wooing would gain more ground than any step by the West.

Menon refused to go along with condemnation of the Reds. Instead his resolution "deplores" that the Russians have made no move to get their troops out of Hungary.

As an alternative, Menon presented a series of amendments to the 17-power proposal to bring it into line with his own resolution. The amendments would have Hammarskjold open talks at the U.N. with both Russian and Hungarian representatives.

AWOL Soldier Admits Setting Church Fires

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (P)—A 6-foot-2, 18-year-old AWOL soldier who "got mad" when he failed to pry open poor boxes has admitted setting three church fires, including the million-dollar blaze that destroyed St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church in Cambridge Saturday.

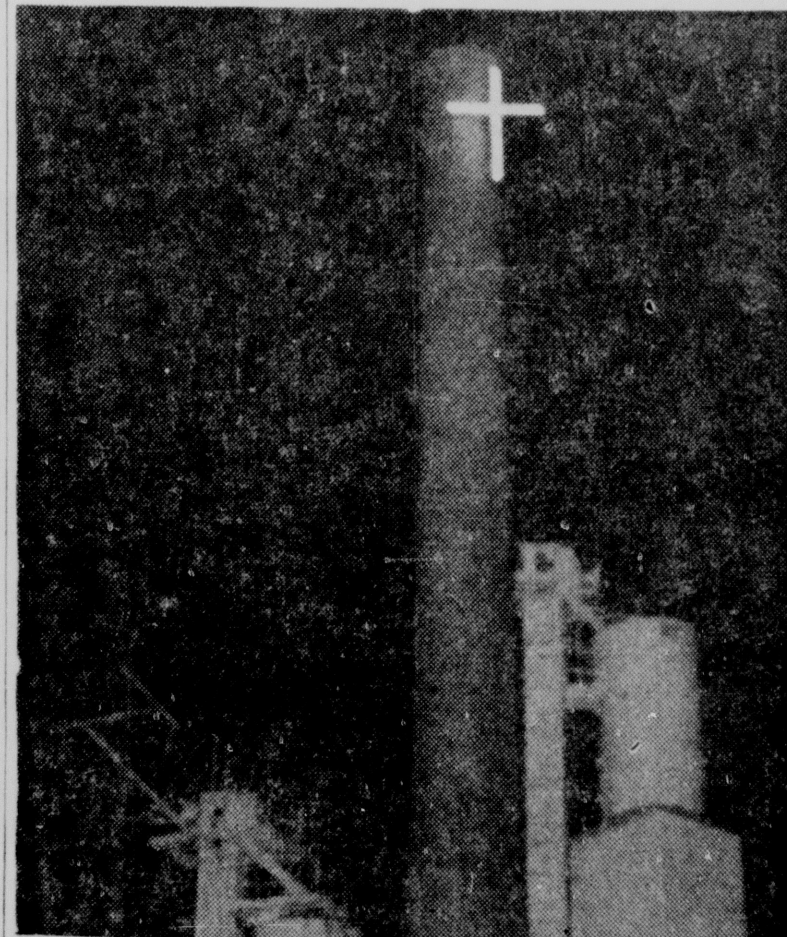

Pvt. Robert Whelan of nearby Somerville, former pupil at St. John's Parochial School, was quoted by police as saying he touched off the fire early Saturday by holding a big vigil candle to cassocks, surplices and other clothing in the sacristy.

Failure to ransom offering boxes in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Boston's West End Sunday and at St. John the Evangelist Episcopal Church on Beacon Hill, Boston, Nov. 19, also led Whelan to set those churches afire, Detective John F. Galligan said.

The fire at St. Joseph's caused damage estimated by the church at $2,500. Damage to St. John's was negligible, police said.

Whelan was booked last night on suspicion of breaking and entering in the nighttime and of arson, and was held for arraignment in Cambridge District Court.

Beating Trial Needs Clues

BUSHNELL, Fla. (AP)—The prosecution still must prove that seven white men on trial here were the ones who yanked a Negro laborer from jail at Wildwood and flogged him. The trial is in its second day.

Jesse Woods, 39, the flogging victim and the state's star witness, said he didn't know who beat him. Two other state witnesses, police chief Ed Mullis and patrolman E. H. Barry of Wildwood, gave no clues on the identity of the floggers.

State Atty. A. P. Buie and defense Atty. George Scofield pointed to each of the seven men yesterday and asked Woods if any one was seen on the night of the flogging. Woods said he never saw any of them and had known only one of them — George Altman — slightly before the incident.

Woods was arrested Oct. 27 at Wildwood on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Arresting officers said he made the remark: "Hello there, baby" to a white school teacher.

The Negro testified he did not make the remark after pretty Miss Mary Evelyn Hill, 24, was brought into the Sumner County court room for Woods to see.

Hours after his arrest, Woods was released on bond. He returned to jail and asked to be confined again when he reported white men were following him. He was whisked from the small unguarded jail shortly after that.

Charged with aggravated assault and false imprisonment of Woods are Altman, Ezekiel Alderman and Max Stumborg, all of Wildwood; Robert Nesmith and Leaman Lundy, both of Bellevue; Doyle Polk of Marion County and Keith Sands of Jacksonville.

Woods said he was taken from the jail by a "group of young boys — white boys" after "they hit me in the nose and head."

The Negro witness related he was forced into a car and "they held my head down." He said "they told me not to look up," "over and over he said 'I didn't see anybody well enough to recognize.'"

A jury of six white men is hearing the case.

Farmers Vote On Five US Crop Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers in wide areas of the country vote in five separate referendums today on federal control programs for 1957 crops of corn, cotton, rice and peanuts.

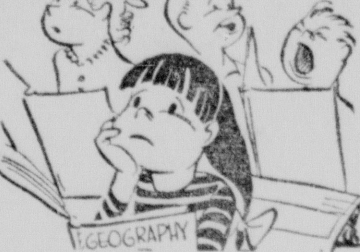

The outcome of the balloting—held under Agriculture Department supervision — could upset government efforts to reduce farm surpluses with the hope of bringing greater stability to prices and income.

The issue in the referendums affecting cotton, rice and peanuts is one of continuing rigid marketing quotas assigned individual farms in an effort to hold down production. Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting in each referendum is required to keep the programs operating.

This is the first time corn growers have been called upon to vote on measures affecting this No. 1 grain crop.

Before the corn producers was a choice of two programs. One, based upon the 1938 farm act, would allot 37,288,889 acres among the growers in a designated commercial corn area comprising 894 counties in 24 Midwestern, Eastern and Southeastern states. Under it corn would be supported at an average of $1.36 a bushel. The alternate proposal would set up a 1957 planting base or allotment of 51 million acres for the commercial corn area, with price supports at an average of $1.31 a bushel. This proposal was authorized by the 1956 farm act setting up a new soil bank payment program designed to reduce acreages of surplus crops.

U. S. Money Experts Face Inquiry Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the architects of the government's plans for inflation control — popularly called its "tight money" policy—face questioning today by critical Congress members.

Chairman William McC. Martin Jr. and other officials of the federal government were summoned today to testify before a Senate House economic subcommittee which opened hearings on fiscal policy yesterday.

One of the first witnesses, Board Chairman Robert R. Young of the New York Central Railroad, said he sees a real danger that inflation may impose a "creeping stagnation" on the nation's economy.

"It is the inflation and abuse of credit by government, not by business, which threatens to stall our rising standard of living and to strike at the heart of private enterprise," he said.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex), the subcommittee chairman, applauded Young's criticism and said at one point: "Congress, I imagine, will take definite action to change the trend so devastating to the economy if something is not done about it."

The "tight money" policy is generally attributed primarily to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and to the Federal Reserve Board, which is independent of the administration.

Humphrey and other officials have defended it as the only logical course at a time of general prosperity which they say has spurred heavy demands for credit from individuals, business and industry.

Young linked denunciations of the "tight money" theory with accusations that the Defense and Treasury departments "persecute" the railroads, hinting that subversive elements might be responsible.

Young said the administration has dealt in "mummery" of scarce credit and interest rate boosts which he said would not reach real inflationary pressures. He termed these the "wage spiral, high taxes and the export of capital" in the form of foreign aid and other expenditures abroad.

Mollet's Budget Has Approval of Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet's deficit budget for 1957 has been approved by six separate ballots in the French National Assembly.

In its final ballot last night, the Assembly approved 215-184 the record 4½-trillion-franc ($12,357,166,000) budget for metropolitan France. An additional 310 billion francs ($885,715,880) probably will be approved for Algeria and military operations against the nationalist rebellion in that North African area.

It is estimated that the total will mean a deficit of nearly 683 billion francs ($2,828,567,000).

The Socialist Premier made all six ballots votes of confidence in his government.

Great Britain Financial Aid Given by Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Great Britain has been extended credits of $1,300,000,000 by the International Monetary Fund to help her ride out a financial storm brought on primarily by the Middle East crisis.

The action was announced last night by the 60-nation fund created in 1947 to help nations caught in such situations to maintain stable currencies.

Of the credit advanced, $561,740,000 is designed to add to Britain's monetary reserves, which have sunk below the two-billion-dollar figure regarded by the London government as a minimum for safe financial dealings.

The additional $738,530,000 was made available upon request of the British government at any time within the next 12 months.

Britain will be charged from 2 to 3½ per cent interest on the credits, depending on when she repays the money advanced.

In anticipation of the action, the U.S. Treasury announced last Friday it would borrow a billion dollars on short-term bills next month.

Some of the U. S. subscription to the monetary fund is in the form of gold, and some is in the form of Treasury notes which bear no interest. The granting of credit to Britain means that the fund will call on this country to provide dollars to match some of the notes. These dollars will then be placed at "the immediate disposal" of London to meet current bills.

Palmer Nichols Wins Awards for Posters

Palmer R. Nichols, 622 East 17th has received a certificate of merit for his posters which were on display at the Missouri State Convention of the State Credit Union which was held at the Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis Nov. 19-24.

The contest was open to all members of the credit union and will be used for its advertising later. The poster ideas were all slanted toward the Credit Union benefits and Nichols' posters were titled: "This Is No Bull", "Hey, Fellers!" and "Fishin's Good."

In the wake of her joint invasion with France of the Suez Canal area in Egypt. In addition to the direct expense of that military venture, she faces for some time greatly increased outlay for oil as a result of the blocking of the canal and a diminished flow of petroleum from mid-eastern fields.

London has asked the United States to waive nearly 82 million dollars in interest payments due Dec. 31. The Eisenhower administration has indicated it will pass this decision on to Congress.

The monetary fund advanced is not intended to be used to meet that obligation.

Per Jacobsson, managing director of the fund, said Britain intends to use the credits "to maintain the rate of the pound sterling at its present parity"—equivalent to $2.80.

Legal Battle Taking Shape In Tennessee

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—Seven Negro students reported peacefully to classes today at integrated Clinton High School.

One girl, Minnie Ann Dickey, 15, among the eight Negro students still attending the racially torn school, was absent because of illness.

Only a handful of newsmen was on hand to see the Negroes enter along with 602 white students. Three carloads of police patrolled the area.

The school reopened yesterday after being closed three days last week following an attack by segregationists on a white Baptist minister who escorted six of the Negroes to classes.

Meanwhile, a big legal battle is shaping up for the trial of 14 men and two women accused of interfering with peaceful integration of the school. The trial will open Jan. 28 before U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor in Knoxville.

Taylor issued an order last January for school authorities to admit Negroes to the school. Twelve enrolled in August along with about 800 whites. Three of the Negroes have dropped out and one has been ill several weeks.

Following a series of anti-integration disorders in August and early September, Taylor issued an injunction forbidding anyone in Anderson, Clinton County from interfering with peaceful integration of the school.

It was for alleged violation of this order that the 16 defendants were rounded up last week by U.S. marshals. They are charged with criminal contempt of court in that they allegedly committed "one or more" of a long list of violations in defiance of the injunction.

The defendants pleaded innocent at their formal arraignment before Taylor yesterday. They are at liberty under bonds ranging from $1,000 to $12,000.

Thomas Gore, Nashville lawyer representing them, told Taylor the attorneys general of at least three Southern states and other lawyers would be associated with him in defense of the accused.

Among those he named were Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepard of Texas; Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia; Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion of Louisiana. Tennessee State Sen. A. J. Stainback; and Grover S. McLeod of Birmingham, Ala.

No injuries resulted about 5:02 p.m. Monday in a two-car collision at the intersection of Third and Grand. A-1c William Pittman, 23, planned to meet A-1c Fred Peebles, 23, and A-3c John Bean, who reside in Sedalia, to go hunting. It was their day off at the Whiteman AFB and they figured no better way to spend their off time than an enjoyable romp over the fields and in the woods hunting.

Pittman was driving his 1948 Pontiac down the country road and Peebles was driving in the opposite direction down the road both expecting to meet soon. They did, headon on a rise in the road.

Pittman applied his brakes as he topped the rise and the car skidded forward and struck the Peebles car. Both vehicles were extensively damaged.

The Parks wrecker towed the Pontiac to the Parks Cities Service Station while Chamberlin's wrecker towed the Chevrolet to the Chamberlin Service Garage.

Trooper Pete Stohr investigated the accident.

Drouth Group To Hold New Meet on Aid

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The State Emergency Drought Committee meets here next Monday to get a fresh start on its appeal for federal aid.

L. C. Carpenter, state commissioner of agriculture, said last night he was dumbfounded to learn that the U. S. Department of Agriculture had rejected a plea for emergency help in hard hit Southwestern Missouri.

"It's imperative that something be done in that area," he said. Carpenter said he conferred with Gov. Phil M. Donnelly yesterday and they agreed all they could do is try again. The state has no funds to buy the livestock feed southwestern Missouri farmers have testified they need.

Many of them had to start feeding hay and grain in mid-September instead of the usual mid-December date, Carpenter noted. He said he could not understand why Missouri's appeal was ignored when a U. S. D. A. survey team heard thousands of farmers tell of their plight in a series of hearings two weeks ago.

Winter Weather Makes Return To Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Winter will do some more sparring in Missouri tonight and tomorrow.

The Weather Bureau said it will be much colder in the north portion as a cold wave moves in from the north.

Mostly cloudy skies with occasional light snow or freezing drizzle were forecast for the north and central portions tonight and east central Missouri tomorrow.

Strong northerly winds in the north this afternoon were expected to diminish tonight.

The extreme south may expect scattered showers tonight and tomorrow.

The bureau said tonight's low readings will be 10 to 15 on the northern border and in the 30s in the south. The highs tomorrow will range from the 20s in the north to the 40s in the extreme south.

Ice formation, the bureau reported, will bring a continued drop in the Missouri River from St. Joseph downstream for the next several days.

Anti-Russian Showing In Polish City

WARSAW (AP)—A wild anti-Russian demonstration was reported today from the big Polish port city of Stettin. Demonstrators marched on the Soviet consulate, smashed windows and tried to break in.

Communist authorities finally called in troops and "workers militia"—club-wielding strong-arm men—to disperse the crowd. Official reports blamed the outburst on "drunken hooligans." But reliable sources in Stettin said it was the outcome of a planned demonstration by students and young factory workers against events in Hungary.

The demonstration started early last night and continued until midnight. Government papers reported several policemen were beaten up and an undisclosed number of demonstrators arrested.

Stettin, on the Oder River estuary 80 miles northeast of Berlin, was the major port of German Pomerania until Poland seized it after World War II. It reportedly was the scene of shooting—still unconfirmed—between Polish and Soviet troops during Poland's "October revolution" which culminated in Moscow's grant of considerable independence to the government of nationalist Communist Wladyslaw Gomulka.

folds or whatever the man who owns it wants to hang on it.

Yes, sir, there are gifts of all kinds for men, from ties to razors, there are gifts for the women from lipsticks to party dresses, there are gifts for travelers from cosmetic bags to luggage, there are gifts for the sportsman from golf balls to motor boats, gifts for the home, from table lamps to organs, gifts for the teenagers from record players to automobiles, and for the children — Old Santa has asked the stores to stock well of the things that children want and they have. Any little youngster with noses pressed against the glass of the store window will see many new and different toys this year, and the youngsters are wide eyed in any toy shop in town.

No wonder everybody is in a dither, so many wonderful things to buy this year, how can people make up their minds. Starting that shopping early is a good idea, little by little, and day by day people do that buying until at last, and perhaps just in time, it is all done.

Never have the wrappings been prettier either, than this year, and the cards. This is a job that takes weeks, this getting ready for Christmas.

Then there is the trimming of the tree, the putting up of decorations all over the house, and the putting up of decorations on the outside, too, to let the world know that this is a home where Christmas is enjoyed to the fullest.

It is a hurry, flurry, happy time of year, regardless of what people have to spend it is a time to get in the gay mood, the religious mood, the wonderful spirit of Christmas, to give gifts to the needy, gifts to family and friends and to do the glorious things that people think of all through the year but often leave until Christmas time to do the sending of cards, the writing of letters, the sending of little gifts, maybe a hankie, a box of homemade candy. It is just a time of remembering, and that is what makes Christmas.

Homemade Christmas setting is an ensemble in pink and gold. Matching place mats, apron and curtains are of lace fishnet, stitched to peltion fabric and trimmed in gold braid. Angels and Christmas tree are made from peltion, and Christmas cards are clipped to gold cord on curtains with gold-sprayed clothespins.

Looking homeward at Christmas, Santa has stuffed his pack with gifts that provide the eye-catching own home or for an extra-special gift for a holiday bride.

New materials used in new ways join with simple stitching to create elegant effects.

Pellon, the new, non-woven, washable stiffening fabric used in many fashions, teams up with gold and gold braid, in place mats, table runner, cafe curtains and a bouffant matching apron.

Pink and gold are the colors used in the setting I saw, but color choices and combinations are almost unlimited. (Versatile pellon is also used to make angels and a feathery Christmas tree to match.)

As a guide to how much material you'll need, six yards each of the pink lace and pink pellon and 29 yards of 1/2-inch gold braid, plus one yard of glazed chintz (for apron ties) provided enough material for four 36-inch cafe curtain panels, one apron, four 15-inch round place mats and one runner, 108 inches long.

Cut out 36-inch square panels from lace and pellon. Make five 7-inch scallops at the top of each. Stitch, leaving opening for turning inside-out. Turn inside-out and close opening.

Trim each panel with two rows of gold braid, and applique a gold braid bow at the outer edge of each panel.

For the apron, cut an 18-inch length of lace and pellon. Stitch together on three sides, turn inside out.

Stitch gold braid in two bands three and five inches from bottom. Gather top (open edge) to 18 inches.

Cut two 7-inch-wide bias ties from chintz and one 19-inch strip for waistband. Stitch 19-inch strip of lace to waistband, turn inside-out and join to apron, leaving ends open.

Hem ties and insert at open ends; stitch in place.

From remainder of the fabrics, cut two strips 12 inches wide and 54 inches long and four 15-inch circles.

For the runner, cut one of the 12x54-inch strips in half. Join one of these to each end of the 54-inch strip, working with the lace and pellon as one. Raw edges of joining seam should be on top.

Trim this seam and cover with gold braid. Trim each end of runner with two rows of braid. Stitch gold braid flat around all four sides of runner.

To make each place mat, thread gold braid through the open mesh of the fishnet across the bottom and form a bow four rows in from the edge. Place lace on pellon and stitch gold braid around the outer edge. Have the joining where it is covered by extension of bow.

I should add that the whole ensemble is washable. Another point worth mentioning is that while the fishnet comes in a wide variety

Ready to introduce an exciting point of interest to almost any room in the house are dazzling accent rugs. Brilliantly colored nylon, wool, cotton or rayon make the luxurious small rugs. From contemporary abstracts to primitive Indian motifs, the range of patterns is wide and geared to all type of decor. For the youngest members, whimsical accent rugs shaped like snowmen, clowns or animals are cunning and inexpensive.

New designs in furniture are also looking for a warm reception. An invitation to relax in comfort is tendered by a baker's dozen styles in chaise longues and contour chairs.

One extremely elegant tapered contour chaise owes its slim sculptured lines to a new type of steel mesh framing covered with foam rubber. One of a large collection of steel-framed furniture (which won't warp or come unglued in humid climates) originated by Charles Stoll, the chaise will entice the ladies in particular because of the flattering choice of upholstery colors.

Spicing the corner where they are, new mirrors are framed in burlap, cane or driftwood; tiny tables have jewel-colored tops; there are tall lamps, some attached to tables; lamp poles in wood and brass, and new versions of the cockfighter's chair. Big serving carts combining wood, metal and plastic, but designed as smartly as living-room furniture, will wheel out a holiday buffet in style and double later as writing stand, bookshelf or room divider.

Delicate-looking dacron and nylon lace tablecloths, heavy embroidered Irish linen, sheer printed placemats and napkins dress up the party table.

Added to the pleasure of deep-piled turkish towel gift sets is the profusion of handsome brass rings, bars and hooks to hang them on.

Interesting silhouettes and multipurpose usefulness of new tableware make it especially appropriate for the holiday-at-home trade. Serving bowls, platters or pitchers, tricked up with holiday goodies for gifts can be used later for centerpiece arrangements as well as food service.

The smart contemporary styling of china, glass and silver, steel or pewter tableware is not limited to the upper price bracket. Some of the best looking are low in cost and able to blend with different patterns in place settings.

For the faithful family correspondent, new leather desk sets in beautiful shades of blue, green, pink, purple, and black and white are generously compartmented to hold varying sizes of stationery and envelopes, stamps and blotters. Matching these are picture frames, address books and, globe-trotters please note, foreign language dictionaries.

For stay-at-homes or the traveler, new portable radios with transistor batteries are ready to move from kitchen to bedroom or from house to hotel. Small portable TV sets are now lighter in weight and can take this form of entertainment where it's wanted. Magnificent hi-fi sets for mom and dad assume the proportions of a major piece of furniture while sleek, slim portable phonographs will be cherished by the student.

Gay Holiday Place Mats Can Be Made From Aluminum Foil

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

With the holiday season in full swing, the table settings become almost as important as the food. One bright new idea for perking up your holiday table is to make place mats from colorful aluminum gift wrap, decorated for the season.

Sewing on aluminum gift wrap is easy, once you get over the initial surprise of sewing on paper. Local sewing center experts tell you how.

The finished place mats should measure 12 by 18 inches. Using a soft, blunt pencil (or an orange stick will do) trace the outline of the place mat on the foil. Cut an inch larger all around. Then cut a piece of pellon the same measurement as the foil, to give body to the mat, as a lining.

Using the zigzag stitch lever A on your automatic swing-needle sewing machine, stitch around the traced outline on the foil, sewing the foil and pellon together. The machine should be set for normal tension and pressure, a 3 light and about 25 stitches to the inch.

After stitching around the outline, trim excess paper and pellon close to the stitching line.

Now comes the decorating fun. Using ordinary brown wrapping paper, draw designs to make patterns. Easy to make are such motifs as a stylized Christmas tree, a holly spray and Christmas balls.

The Christmas tree is made simply of graduated strips of the foil paper in contrasting color, applied directly on the mat. A touch of glue will hold the pieces in place while they are being stitched.

The holly design is worked with the zigzag stitch. After drawing the design, trace the holly leaves on silver paper and the bow on red paper, for a green place mat. Applique around the outline of the leaves and make the effect of separate leaves by outlining inside leaf edges with the satin stitch. The red bow is applied over the base of the leaves.

Offering a lot of service for a relatively small investment are such gifts as styled-up umbrella stands, boot racks, door knockers and modern mail-boxes (good gifts for the homeowner) in weather-proof brass and iron. A portable chrome or copper lantern with replaceable batteries will light the way down dark or icy steps. It can be hung on a hook as well as carried.

No Substitute For Generosity

"Let George do it," probably stems from a satirical remark Louis XII of France made about his prime minister Cardinal Georges d'Amboise.

Whatever its genesis the expression now falls in the category of an old bromide meaning "let the other fellow do it."

There is suspicion this remark of a French king has become an accepted maxim of those peculiar complainers one meets from time to time when they are asked to participate in a community building project or a welfare drive, or any of innumerable programs of church, lodge and service club without which area stagnation evolves, and community progress curdles.

In a facetious moment Louis the 12th may have generated an idea that during intervening centuries was wafted across the Atlantic ocean to become implanted in the minds of those Americans whose modern principle is "Let the government do it."

No matter how well-intentioned these persons may be they cannot shunt aside generosity of spirit. They may evade the workload of community progress and by their indifference escape physical effort, but they become complete frauds when they depend on letting the government do only what civic and welfare authorities can accomplish administering to the unfortunate.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Resume Tax Case Against Congressman

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The sorest man in America today against the Eisenhower Administration is Adam Clayton Powell, the Negro congressman from Harlem, who bolted the Democrats to plug for Ike and now finds himself before a grand jury for income-tax evasion. The inside story is illuminating.

Early last summer, Powell learned that he faced an income-tax probe. Three of his assistants had already been indicted for income tax violations. He went to see Vice President Nixon. Just what happened between them is not known, but Powell, as reported in this column on Aug. 19, wrote Nixon that he was "ready and willing" to campaign for Eisenhower.

Powell then went abroad, ducking out on the crucial part of the congressional fight for civil rights and schools. From Italy he telephoned his assistant, William Hampton, now under indictment, and dictated another letter to Nixon, plus a letter to Max Rabb, the White House assistant in charge of minorities, expressing his willingness to campaign for Eisenhower-Nixon.

This was quite a switch for the Negro congressman from Harlem. He had been severe in his castigation of Eisenhower in the past.

How Trouble Began

Earlier, however, Powell's 1954 campaign manager, Joseph Ford, had broken with him and taken with him some of the congressman's financial records. Ford got together with Powell's primary opponent, Herbert Bruce. A letter was written to the Justice Department which led to the income-tax investigation of Powell and the indictment of his three secretaries.

Among the financial transactions investigated was the manner in which Powell's staff, while working for him in Washington and paid by the taxpayer, also worked for his various private interests in New York.

Two of Powell's congressional secretaries, Acy Lennon, now convicted, and William Hampton, now indicted, were each paid $8,000 a year in addition to their congressional salaries from the Dorie Miller houses on Long Island. This was an interracial housing cooperative project in which Powell was interested. Its promoter, David Kent, loaned Powell $3,000 to buy an imported European sports car, and internal revenue agents have been investigating to see whether the $3,000 was ever paid back, and, if not, whether he paid taxes on it.

This writer has unearthed evidence on three congressmen for taking kickbacks from their secretaries, which led to their convictions. But in the case of Representative Powell, it was his secretaries who went to jail or were indicted, not he who presumably benefitted from the alleged kickbacks.

The attorney who handled the original grand jury investigation of Powell and his staff last spring was Sam Pierce, Jr., a Negro attorney with a fine record, then assistant U. S. attorney in New York. He either indicted or helped prepare the indictments of Powell's three secretaries. Then suddenly he was transferred to Washington, first to the Labor Department, then to a job with the House judiciary committee un-

Guest Editorial—

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) STANDARD-TIMES: It Happened In Oklahoma. Collectors of Americana will want to add this item to their list of things that could not possibly occur in any other country in the world.

Out in Oklahoma City, Mrs. Beatrice McDonald went before the Oklahoma City Council to explain how she left two pairs of curtains in a basket near her garbage can and the garbage collectors removed them.

She made a trip to the city dump in pursuit, but an earnest search failed to turn up the curtains. In the manner of all good Americans who believe their government to be of, by and for the people, Mrs. McDonald then made an appointment to talk to the city councillors.

They granted a hearing, they sympathized and voted to appropriate $9.18 to buy Mrs. McDonald some new curtains.

Wonder if they followed up this action with a short but kindly suggestion to the city garbage collectors not to be quite so zealous in their collecting?

The prelude to Christmas giving is an unexpected turn of events in a foreign land — Hungary — where in desperation hundreds of thousands have become the brutal victims of a Godless aggressor.

Pettis Countians have been asked to raise a meager $884 for the Red Cross Hungarian Relief Fund. Only a fourth of that amount has been sent to the Red Cross chapter offices at 112 West Fourth Street, Sedalia.

Other relief measures are in the process of accomplishment, some of which will require establishing homes for the many refugees who will come to this country.

But for a considerable time there must be provided food, shelter, clothing and medical care for more than 100,000 Hungarians in Austria.

The International Red Cross Committee, acting through agreement with the Hungarian Communist authorities, has taken charge of distributing all international relief supplies.

This effort will cost money.

Is it too much to ask that Pettis Countians accept the responsibility of raising their share of the Red Cross Hungarian Relief?

Let us open our hearts to oppression's victims with the generosity of spirit typical of Americans, and wait no longer to "let the other fellow do it."

der GOP Congressman Keating of New York. Later he took leave to campaign for the Republican national committee.

White House Preparations

During all this investigation, an ultra-secret meeting was arranged between Congressman Powell, Democrat, and Max Rabb, White House aide, plus Charley Willis, former White House aide, now an official of the Grace Steamship Company.

Nixon had turned Powell's letter over to Willis to arrange for the switch to Eisenhower in a manner which would swing the most votes. For some time during the campaign this fall, the chief job of Charley Willis was to chaperone Powell and make sure nothing went wrong with his switch to Ike.

The Powell declaration was considered so important that Max Rabb went to New York personally to bring him to Washington to meet the President. In Washington Powell met separately with Chairman Len Hall; Val Washington, Hall's Negro assistant; Sherman Adams, and finally with Eisenhower himself. Afterward Jim Hagerty called a special press conference for Powell to make his announcement.

So you can see why the congressman from Harlem, after getting all this attention, is now sore at finding himself before a grand jury.

However, this was not all. Charley Willis and Max Rabb went back to New York where the congressman held another press convention in Harlem. John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late President, was also present.

Terms of the Deal

Here is the deal made with Powell in return for his "throw" to Ike:

1. Powell's faithful secretary, Hattie Dodson, who refused to testify against him in court, was to be released in the middle of a seven-month sentence. This was done on October 17.

2. Another Powell friend, Fred Weaver, assistant housing commissioner in New York, to be given a federal job. During the course of a conversation in New York, Weaver denied to Jack Anderson of this column that he had been offered a federal job, but Congressman Powell interrupted to say: "I'm going to see that he gets one. I'm going to talk to Max Rabb about it right now. Fred owes me money and that's the only way I'll get it."

3. Powell to appoint eight to ten federal jobs in the New York area.

4. Willis' father-in-law, Harvey Firestone of Firestone Rubber, to help raise a large campaign fund by which Powell was to swing Negro votes. This fund was mentioned as around $150,000. Ironically the late Harvey Firestone, Sr., was once cited by the League of Nations and exoriated by the late Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson for using Negro slaves in Liberia on the Firestone rubber plantation.

Finally it was supposed, presumed, and believed that part of the deal was that the Justice Department would forget the tax case against Powell. That's why Capitol Hill is watching to see what happens before the grand jury.

Note: Powell has called at the White House twice since the election to straighten out his tax troubles. He was unable, however, to quash the case.

British Economy Is Vital Issue to U. S.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The loan of $1,300,000,000 to Britain by the International Monetary Fund last night may clear the Washington air for a while, at least. It was getting confused toward the end of last week.

Britain had suffered economic damage from her joint attack with France on Egypt. For one thing, the invasion cost money. For another, oil supplies from the Middle East were shut off when the Suez Canal was blocked.

The United States is going to make up a part of the oil loss by shipping oil from here. Nevertheless, Britain showed she still was in an economic squeeze by asking this country to waive nearly $2 million dollars in interest on previous debts.

Keeping the British economy healthy is in the interest of the United States. A collapse in Britain would be felt around the world, particularly in Western Europe.

Last Thursday some high authorities in the government were talking of increased aid to Britain, not as big as the Marshall plan, but nevertheless sizable. But the talk was vague.

On Thursday night Vice President Nixon touched on the same subject in a New York speech although he too was vague when he said:

"I believe it is in our interest as well as theirs (the British) in this hour of difficulty, and I am confident that there will be strong bipartisan support in Congress for granting such assistance."

It seemed unlikely Nixon would talk like that unless he knew he

What They Say—

MISSOURI PACIFIC NEWS: Reflecting the steady progress that is being made in increasing utilization of the nation's freight car fleet, the national Joint Clean Car Committee of the National Association of Shippers Advisory Boards recently reported a drop of approximately 28 per cent in the proportion of unclean freight cars to total cars released by consignees from March, 1955, through Sept. 15, 1956.

Using the generally accepted yardstick of a three-day loss per car in moving to, over and from cleaning tracks, the committee estimates annual loss to the railroads of 24 million freight car days—enough to provide, at a 16-day turn-around, for the weekly loading and handling of 28,846 more cars of freight. Thanks, shippers... keep up the good work.

was stating administration thinking.

As if to make it official, James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, said that while Eisenhower didn't see the Nixon speech beforehand, "the vice president knows the policies of the President."

So administration thinking seemed to be in the direction of fresh aid for Britain, to be voted by Congress. But on Saturday night Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey appeared to throw cold water on this notion. Speaking in New York, he said:

"Some of the estimates for financial support have been greatly exaggerated. The fact is that in all probability existing institutions will be able to provide most of the assistance that may be needed."

The "existing institutions" Humphrey had in mind must have included the International Monetary Fund, established in 1947. The United States, Britain and a batch of other countries are members.

Each contributes a share of the money which makes up the fund from which a needy member can get a loan, as Britain did last night. The British will have to pay interest on the money, besides paying back the principal.

But the fund is an international organization. Congress has nothing to do with the loans it makes. So Humphrey was right, at least up to now.

Maybe by the time Congress comes back in January Britain will need more money. If so, the Eisenhower administration will then have to ask Congress to help the British.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Low Blood Pressure An Asset, Not a Liability

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A reader asks for a discussion of low blood pressure. He says he has headaches in the morning, and, since nothing else has been found, wonders if these can be the result of low blood pressure.

I cannot say absolutely that a low blood pressure has nothing to do with headaches, but there are many other possible causes for headaches. Certainly low blood pressure is one of the least likely.

In most cases, low blood pressure is an asset rather than a liability. There are only a few definite disease conditions which are shown by low blood pressure, and most of these can be readily identified by the skilled physician. Among these is a rather rare condition known as Addison's disease, which results from trouble in the tiny adrenal glands lying next to the kidneys. This, however, is associated with other symptoms, and does not come in question in most of those who have blood pressures slightly below average.

There are a few, but very few, other definite diseases which are associated with persistent or temporary lowering of the blood pressure. These, too, are unusual, and can usually be easily identified.

Once in a while someone will have a drop in blood pressure when moving from a lying or sitting position to a standing one. This may require some attention.

It is doubtful that there are any symptoms which can be blamed on low blood pressure and nothing else. Some people who have low blood pressure may complain of lack of pep or some other symptom, but this is more likely to arise from some other cause than from low blood pressure.

There is no effective safe way to raise the blood pressure. Consequently, low blood pressure should be left alone unless some other condition is present which should be treated on its own account. Too many people worry about low blood pressure. If they were not told it would save a lot of trouble. Too high pressure is a different matter.

Low blood pressure generally should be a matter of little concern from the health standpoint. Unless definitely tied to some physical abnormality — and this is the exception — low blood pressure of itself is associated with a long life and generally above average health.

Outpost of Importance—

Value of Unification Is Stressed In Puerto Rico

(Editor's Note: Our correspondent is traveling in the Caribbean with a group of 21 U.S. reporters, members of the Women's National Press Club.)

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
WITH ARMY, NAVY, AIR FORCE, Puerto Rico—Few Americans realize the military importance of this Caribbean area. It's summed up in one sentence by Rear Adm. Burton Hall: "We lost 227 ships here during World War II."

To see that it doesn't happen again, the Navy, Air Force, and Army, are giving some substance to the maligned word "unification" in Operations Headquarters at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Politically as well as militarily, this beautiful semi-enclosed span of water is strategic. Some 90 per cent of the territory is under foreign flags, with 12 sovereign republics and with three distant countries (Britain, France, and The Netherlands) having possessions in this avenue of approach to the Panama Canal. Some governments are stable and some are jittery. The United States relationship varies from "excellent" to "correct."

In peace time, sea lanes must be kept open for the freighters carrying tin, copper, bauxite, rubber and iron ore from South America and the Orient. Varied training activities must be maintained, the coast line patrolled against surprise attack, and the Panama Canal safeguarded.

In war time, two missions are paramount — to prevent attack along the coast, and to control enemy submarine action.

In a Navy briefing, a dramatic report was given about the proposed expansion of the Roosevelt Roads Naval Station on the eastern coast of the island, some 48 miles from San Juan. Admiral Hall is called a pioneer in this long-range Navy guided missile project. Congressional approval is awaited to finance the construction, already given the green light by the Army Engineers.

The Air Force briefing took place at Ramey Air Force Base, a 20-minute flying distance away from San Juan. With pride, Brig. Gen. Bertram Harrison said: "Ramey is the Air Force's finest," and proved it with a re-enlistment record "never lower than 88 per cent." He's all for fringe benefits, so criticized by Congress. Knowing the wives have a lot to do with the re-enlistment decision, he said: "These young couples don't want to be second-class citizens, and they have a right to the same advantages as the average civilian family, which doesn't have to travel 20 miles to see a movie, play golf, or to educate the children."

Typically, the General allowed the wives of the officers to attend a briefing given our group of newswomen. The women were asked to consider themselves a "B-36 crew" receiving instructions for a simulated combat mission, called Beaver Brook. With the help of maps, pictures, and even cartoons, the "crew" was made ready to fly to an overseas target, equipped with information as to the route, where to refuel, the weather, and even the politics of the area. This vivid method of briefing gave us at least some grasp of the complexities of a combat mission.

Looking ahead with the Air Force means predicting how soon the B-52s will arrive at Ramey. One guess: About a year.

The Army briefing was called a "brief briefing" by Col. Francis Hill, because it would appear remote that ground forces would be a good defense in this area.

The big job for the Army here is the recruitment of Puerto Rican man-power. Unemployment is high, and many volunteer, so the Army "can take the best." The principal task is teaching these Spanish-speaking Americans to speak English well enough to be sent later to the United States camps for basic military training.

Our forward stations in the Caribbean are favorites for all the Armed Forces. Service families live in a semi-tropical climate, with ready travel to the United States. Cordial relations are enjoyed with the Puerto Rican people. Many bluejackets and Marines in the Atlantic Fleet are already here for winter maneuvers.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Stop lights on the rear fenders of automobiles are put there to warn others that stops are going to be made. Most drivers watch the signals on the car ahead.

There are hundreds of little danger signals on the way through a day's activities. These warnings are almost as clear as the signal lights which assist us in our driving.

Why do we not pay attention to these flashing signals? Why do we plow through our fellow men? Do we enjoy wrecking their lives? Although we do not enjoy harming others, we give too little heed to the results of reckless living.

The next time someone holds out his hand to warn us of social or spiritual dangers it would be well to pause and consider the consequences. Kindness and love would make our course through life more pleasant. They would certainly cause less grief and mental suffering for others.

Whiteman AFB Donates $11,763 to UF

An unofficial total of $11,763 was reported after most United Fund money had been collected and deposited at the end of Whiteman Air Force Base's annual consolidated charity drive Saturday, December 1.

This total does not include the 340th Air Refueling Squadron which has not turned in a report from their overseas station as yet. Their contribution is expected to exceed $1,000.

One squadron, AACS, went over the 100 per cent unit personnel participation rate with a reported 101 per cent total of $278 contributed by that unit's personnel during the one month drive.

Headquarters Squadron Air Base Group led all 340th squadrons in dollars collected with a $1,296 total for a 61 per cent contribution rate. Civilian personnel were close behind the dollar leaders with a total of $1,229. Headquarters Squadron Wing and 486th Bomb Squadron finished third and fourth respectively with totals of $1,138 and $948 collected since the campaign started Nov. 1.

In the percentage column Transportation Squadron and Operations Squadron wound up in a tie behind AACS both having collected 81 per cent of their desired total of 100 per cent participation.

Money collected in the drive will be divided among the Sedalia United Fund, Warrensburg Community Chest, and the local charities of Windsor, Knob Noster, and LaMonte. In addition to these local charitable organizations, the American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Salvation Army, National Heart Association, Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., and United Cerebral Palsy, Inc., will also benefit from the money collected during this base's charity fund drive.

This campaign's total, added to the $18,140 donated to Whiteman's first United Fund Drive last Feb., amounts to $30,900. Whiteman personnel have donated to the United Fund this calendar year. The next campaign is expected to be held in October, 1957.

Will Make Tape Recordings For AF Men Abroad

Another dependents assistance service is about to be initiated at Whiteman Air Force Base which will enable all dependents of Air Refueling Squadron personnel and supporting units to wish their husbands and fathers a "Merry Christmas".

On Dec. 15 at 10 a.m. in the Service Club, 1-Lt. James Newsom, dependents assistance officer, and his staff will be set up with a tape recorder to record the live "Merry Christmases" to the personnel on Temporary Duty overseas from all the family.

1-Lt. Newsom has invited all dependents of ARS personnel to bring their families to the Service Club on the 15th in order to participate in this "Operation Santa."

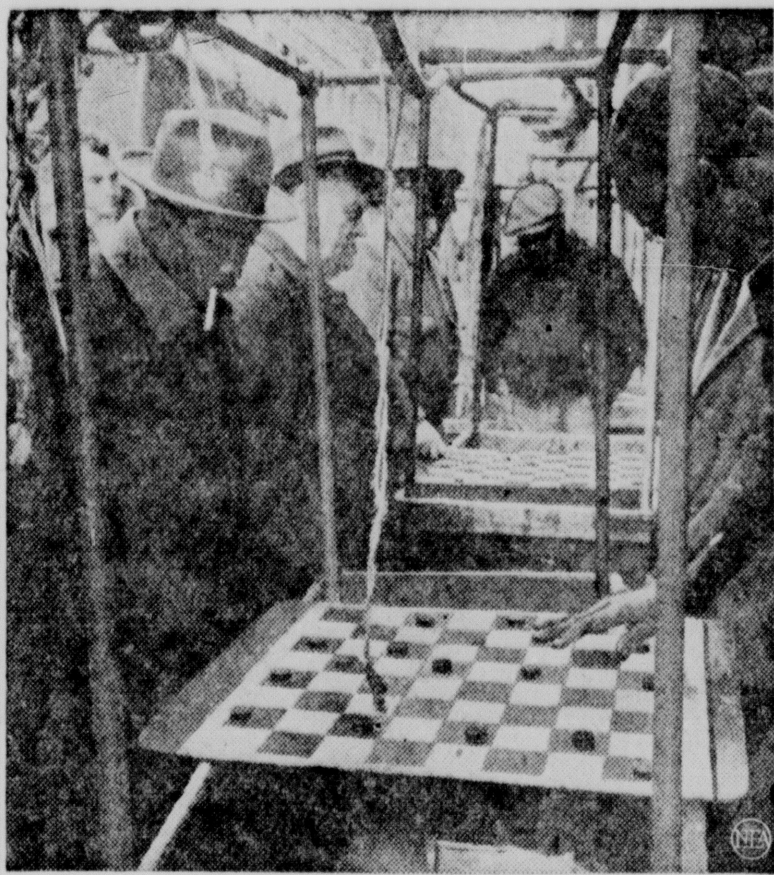

The tape recordings will be sent to ARS's overseas station in time for them to hear the personal holiday greetings from their families.

Dependents assistance has encouraged all ARS dependents to set aside Dec. 15 as the day to send their personal greetings to their husband.

Whiteman Air Force Base is the home of the 340th Bombardment Wing, an Eighth Air Force installation of the Strategic Air Command.

Donate 410 Pints Of Blood at AFB During the Drive

An unofficial total of 410 pints of blood were donated by Whiteman Air Force Base personnel during the two-day visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Nov. 29 and 30, according to E. A. Goodwin, base Red Cross director.

Mr. Goodwin said in referring to the blood drive, "While this total is still unofficial we do know that a new base record was established for total pints of blood contributed during one of these periodic Blood Bank drives."

Fifty-six members of Whiteman's Gray Ladies Corps in addition to Nurses Aids, canteen and staff aids volunteered their services for the two day blood drive.

Headquarters Squadron ABG, Supply and Field Maintenance Squadrons were reported to have led all 340th units in the number of personnel donating a pint of their blood to the Regional Blood Bank.

Individuals who contributed to the Blood Bank are thereafter entitled to receive, free of charge, whole blood requirements. Whiteman, the home of the 340th Bomb Wing, an Eighth Air Force installation of the Strategic Air Command is only one of the 104 hospitals in the Missouri region participating in this mutual program.

Kansas Tops the Collegiate Cage Ranking in First Poll

'Wilt the Stilt' Spearheads For Jayhawkers

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
The Associated Press

Kansas, spearheaded by seven-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, tops the collegiate rankings in the first Associated Press basketball poll of the season.

The heralded sophomore averaged 45.7 points in the Jayhawkers' two victories at home over Northwestern and Marquette. The sports writers and sportscasters seemed so impressed by Chamberlain's varsity debut that 58 of the 108 participating in the balloting picked Kansas as No. 1.

Kansas accumulated 896 points with the standings figured on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc. San Francisco, No. 1 team in the final AP poll the past two seasons, is runner-up with 675 points, including 18 firsts.

Kentucky, displaying another sophomore sensation in Johnny Cox, rolled up three straight victories to rank third in the listings with 514 points.

Louisville, National Invitational Tournament winner last March, is fourth with 403 points, two more than Southern Methodist, with 401. Rounding out the top 10 are North Carolina (No. 6), Illinois (No. 7), North Carolina State (No. 8), Alabama (No. 9) and Canisius (No. 10).

The top 10 teams with first-place votes in parenthesis:

1. Kansas (58) 896
2. San Francisco (18) 675
3. Kentucky (6) 514
4. Louisville (6) 403
5. Southern Methodist (3) 401
6. North Carolina (4) 350
7. Illinois 338
8. N. C. State (2) 271
9. Alabama 252
10. Canisius (4) 225

Two other Big Seven teams join the Jayhawkers among the nation's top 20.

Defending league champion Kansas State was voted the No. 14 spot behind Ohio State, Western Kentucky and West Virginia. Iowa State, runnerup to the Wildcats, holds down 17th behind Dayton and Niagara.

Completing the second 10 are Oklahoma City, No. 16; Oklahoma A&M, 19th and Seattle, 20th.

Kansas, Kansas State and Iowa State have veteran heavy lineups. The addition of Chamberlain at Kansas is of course the dominant factor in its No. 1 ranking.

Jack Parr, a 6-9 junior center for Kansas State, averaged 17.4 points and 14 rebounds a game in his sophomore year and appears to be much improved this year.

The Iowa State squad is paced by 5-10 Gary Thompson, who alternated between guard and center last year. Thompson scored 439 points for the Cyclones last year. Despite his scoring feats, he is still primarily a team player with great floor leadership ability.

Heavyweight Returns Home to Argentina To Get Married

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex Miteff is going home to Argentina for the holidays to get married but the unbeaten 21-year-old heavyweight will be back in February to continue his ring career.

Miteff will be offered a St. Nicholas Arena date with Willi Besmanoff of Germany on his return.

The Argentine went over seven rounds for the first time last night to win a split decision over Archie McBride of Trenton in a 10-round match. It was his first main event.

Referee Arty Mercante and Judge Joe Eppy voted for Miteff 5-4-1 but Judge Tony Castellano saw it 6-4 for McBride. The AP card was even 4-4-2.

Miteff weighed 199 to McBride's 186½ pounds.

Missouri Tigers Win Over South Dakota By Score of 81-71

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The Missouri Tigers defeated the South Dakota University basketball team 81-71 last night by rallying in the second half.

The lead changed hands several times in the first half. Missouri was ahead 46-44 at halftime but South Dakota quickly tied the score. Then Missouri got rolling and built a 15-point margin with 10 minutes left.

Sonny Siebert and Lionel Smith each scored 22 points for the Tigers. Clayton Kiewell was high for the visitors with 18.

Major League Players Form Organization

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A group of major league baseball players ended a two-day meeting here today with a social get together after forming the Baseball Players' Assn.

Cleveland pitcher Bob Feller elected president of the new group said it was not the beginning of a guild or union.

He said collective bargaining wouldn't work in baseball. Feller said the main aim of the group will be to help promote baseball.

"We're planning annual conventions which will be for active and inactive players," he added.

Twenty players attended the organizational meeting.

They asked that club owners meet with them to study pension, salary and bonus problems.

Feller, Robin Roberts, Ted Kluszewski and Eddie Yost will meet in New York Monday with club representatives Joe Cronin and John Galbreath to work on a pension plan.

Sooners Don't Do So Well In Cage Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma, the only Big Seven Conference team without a victory in the young basketball season, will have two opportunities this week to enter the win column.

Coach Doyle Parrack's Sooners (0-2) play at Texas tomorrow night and Baylor Friday night.

While Oklahoma football teams have been chalking up new consecutive game winning records, the basketball teams have been getting belted all over the place.

Oklahoma has won only 7 of its last 46 basketball games.

The Sooners last victory on the boards was at Norman last Feb. 17 when they upset Kansas 69-68 and dumped the Jayhawkers from contention in the league race.

Meanwhile, the conference is traveling at a heady pace with an overall 15-5 record. Nebraska is charged with two of those defeats and Missouri the other one.

The Cornhuskers after dropping their first two games to UCLA came back to whip Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin, all of the neighboring Big 10.

Gary Reimers and Don Smith hit two free throws each with about three minutes remaining last night to break a 49-49 tie and give Nebraska its winning margin over Wisconsin. The final score was 53-51.

Missouri won its first victory against one defeat with an 81-71 decision over South Dakota and Colorado got its third in as many starts, 70-49 over Colorado A&M.

Reimers was high for the Huskers with 14 points while Lionel Smith and Sonny Siebert each contributed 22 points to the Missouri scoring and Jim Jochems topped the Colorado effort with 16.

Other games this week send Iowa State to Texas Tech and Kansas to Washington Friday night.

The Jayhawkers play Washington again Saturday while Iowa State goes to Tulsa. Also on Saturday Missouri will play Arkansas at Columbia, Colorado meets Southern California at Boulder and Kansas State and Indiana play at Manhattan.

120 Golfers Tee Off In Mayfair Tourney

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—One hundred and twenty golfers tee off today to qualify for 80 places in the $15,000 Mayfair Open golf tournament opening Thursday.

There are 60 exempt players. With the low 80 qualifiers and ties in today's round a field of about 150 will make the run for the money over 72 holes, 18 each day through Sunday.

Al Beselink, winner at Havana last week, and Gardner Dickinson Jr., winner at Palm Beach two weeks ago, are scheduled to be on hand Thursday together with defending champion Al Balding, whose 11-under-par 269 won the inaugural Mayfair Open.

Slow Reading Helps Provoke New Thoughts

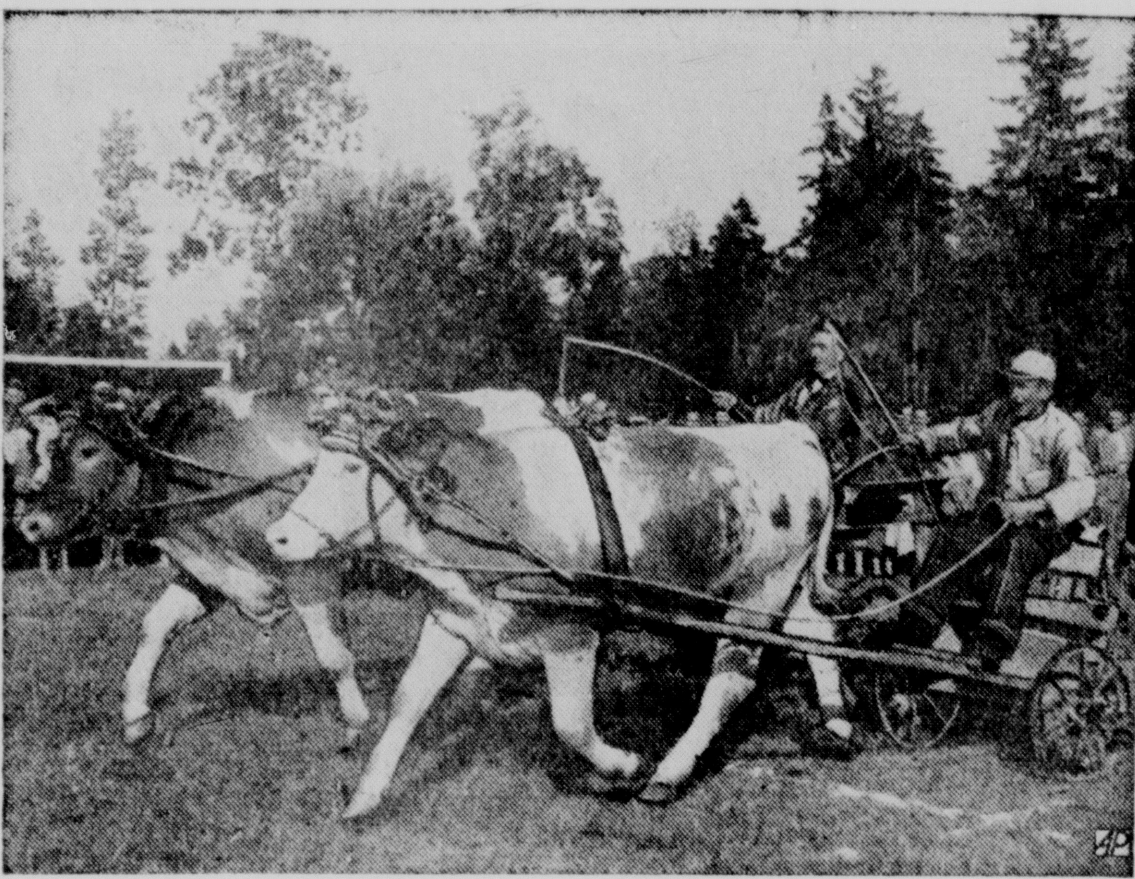

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A Michigan State University English professor has a word in defense of the slow reader. Dr. E. V. Leitch, criticizing the stress in recent years on speed in reading, says, "Because good books not only record thought but also provoke it, justice can seldom be done them in a hurried reading, or even by a single careful reading."

Suspends Fine, Asks Father to Buy Gifts

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Ten of William R. Thornton's children got a good impression of legal justice.

They accompanied their 56-year-old father, a tenant farmer, to court and heard him plead guilty to reckless driving.

County Judge J. M. Leer fined Thornton $10 and $11.50 costs. But he suspended the fine and told the father to spend the money on the children for Christmas.

STRAINING SINEWS—Two flower-festooned oxen fight for victory in race at country festival in small Bavarian village of Oberhummel. Any type of sulky was permitted.

Philadelphia Players Hold Cage Scoring Lead in Association

By The Associated Press

Despite the sub-par team showing of the champion Philadelphia Warriors, their 1-2 scoring punch of Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston continues to lead the individual scorers in the National Basketball Assn.

Official NBA statistics showed today that Arizin, the 1952 scoring champion, tops the circuit with 489 points in 20 games, a 24.5 average. Paul scored 58 points in two games last week to break a deadlock with Johnston. Big Neil bagged 46 and is second with 477.

Last season's scoring champ, Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, tallied 84 points for a 459 total and third place. Clyde Lovellette of Minneapolis is fourth with 458.

Bow Hunters Get Record Rabbit Kill on Weekend

The Sedalia archers, Osage Bowmen Club were host to a group of St. Louis bow hunters on a weekend rabbit hunt in Pettis County. The total kill for the day and a half hunting was 102 rabbits, a record kill for archers in Missouri.

Four hunters bagged their limit. One of Missouri's first bow and arrow sportsmen, Hugh Collins of Sedalia led the hunt with LeRoy and Aneta Young, Lauren Williams, Junior Pirtle, Sam Green and Roy Young, all of Sedalia.

The St. Louis visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cooney, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Reeg, James Schultz, Mary Kay, Allen Miller, Bill Roscoe, John Evans, and Elmer Knapp.

The kill on Saturday amounted to 72 rabbits to 13 hunters while Sunday morning 13 hunters took a total of 30 for the half day.

Homebrew Kicks Back With Tax Troubles

DERBY, England (AP)—The potent tipple of teetotaler Stanley Toplis tripped over tax trouble, and his workmates hereafter will have to get their kicks at the pub, at four times the price.

Toplis, a railway pipe fitter, was haled into court by the customs and excise people on a charge of distilling spirits without a license.

Toplis freely admitted it. He said he made the drink in a spirit of pure scientific research by distilling a wine he had cooked up out of fermented potatoes. Never touches the stuff himself, but the fellows down at the shop paid $1.19 a bottle — just what it cost to produce — and seemed to like it fine.

For one thing, the drink was 84 proof and legal whisky in Britain is only 70. Also, the latter costs $5.04 a fifth.

A customs service analyst said the Toplis tipple was "equivalent to fairly good commercial whisky."

Toplis paid a fine of $50.40 and said he is going out of business. Wasn't much of a business anyway. No profits.

Coach With A Scoring Touch
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Jackie Gordon, playing coach of the Cleveland Barons, holds scoring records for three American Hockey League teams. In 1949-50, Gordon had 83 points to lead New Haven. The following season he led Cincinnati with 65 points. In 1953-54 he rang up 102 points to set a Cleveland scoring record.

Chicago Cubs Gain Catchers In Player Deal

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who only 24 hours ago were desperately seeking to strengthen their catching department, had two new backstops today after the purchase of Charlie Silvera from the New York Yankees and the acquisition of Ray Katt in a 10-player trade with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Katt, a 247 hitter who clouted 13 home runs last season, came first. With him came pitchers Tom Poholsky and Jackie Collum and infielder Wally Lammers, who was immediately shipped to the Cubs' Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Two other players, of minor league caliber, have been promised by the Cardinals no later than March 1. These players will be sent to the Yankees along with $10,000 for Silvera.

In return for the Redbird flock, the Cubs sent pitchers Sam Jones and Jim Davis, catcher Hobie Landrith and utility man Eddie Miksis. Jones, who pitched a no-hitter against Pittsburgh May 12, 1955, and Poholsky, who hurled a 22-inning game while with Rochester back in 1950 were the biggest named in the transaction. Each had a 9-14 record last year.

Manager Bob Scheffing was enthusiastic over the two deals, his first since he succeeded Stan Hack as pilot of the Cubs two months ago.

"In Silvera and Katt," he said, "We acquired two catchers who are better than anybody we had last season. Silvera would have been a first-string catcher if he were on any other club but then Yankees. Katt has a lot of power and should find Wrigley Field to his liking."

The youthful skipper thought the exchange of pitchers with the Cards was a standoff but expected to get more pitching out of Poholsky than he did from Jones.

Monkey Homesteads California Back Yard

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the last five weeks a monkey has been homesteading Mrs. Ruth Grant's backyard.

At first, she thought the Simian was a lot of fun. He swung from tree to tree and danced on the power lines. Mrs. Grant put out food.

That apparently was a mistake. The monkey broke into Mrs. Grant's home, tore curtains and upset an ink well. Now she wishes the animal would leave or the owner would get her. The monkey is a she—she chatters incessantly.

Polio Patient Takes Oath of Allegiance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An unusual naturalization ceremony is scheduled to take place here Thursday when Franz E. Hofer, 37, a polio patient confined to an iron lung, will become a naturalized American citizen.

Plans call for U.S. Judge Leon R. Yankwich to administer the oath at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Ike Plays Golf With High Canadian Officer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A couple of ardent golfers — President Eisenhower and Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent — meet here today for a good neighbor match.

The 74-year-old Prime Minister was scheduled to arrive from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he has been vacationing. After golfing with the President he will fly on to his home at Ottawa.

The President has been mixing work and vacation here at the Augusta National Golf Club since Nov. 26. Present indications are he will return to Washington Thursday.

Atlanta Teachers Vote Withdrawal From Federation

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Public School Teachers Assn. voted unanimously last night to withdraw from the American Federation of Teachers at the end of this year rather than admit Negroes to membership.

Announcement of the decision was made by Roger Derthick, association president and brother of Dr. Lawrence Derthick of Chattanooga, Tenn., who recently was appointed U.S. commissioner of education by President Eisenhower.

Derthick said the association unanimously adopted a resolution which will take the 1,853 members out of the national organization Dec. 31, 1956, and end a labor tieup which has existed since 1919.

The action came after both Atlanta Local No. 69 and Fulton County Local No. 183 were told by the American Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO affiliate, that they would have to integrate Negroes into their membership or stand expelled as of Dec. 31, 1957.

O. L. Wooten, president of the Fulton County local, said no action was anticipated by the members of his organization — about 500 — until after the 1957 summer convention of the American Federation of Teachers.

Pays Parking Fines, Presents Petition

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The chairman of a committee fighting an overnight street parking ban in nearby Edgewood borough was arrested on charges of violating the ban 20 times.

Harold W. Boyd Jr. was arrested as he entered the municipal building to present a petition objecting to overnight parking.

After he paid the fine of $22.70, Boyd presented the council his petition bearing 1,109 names. Council agreed to re-evaluate the ordinance.

Yale Has Same Schedule for 1957

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Odd thing about Yale's 1957 football schedule of nine games is that it will meet all of its 1956 opponents in the same order next season.

The Ivy League champions will play six home games, traveling only to Ithaca to meet Cornell, to Philadelphia to play Penn and to Princeton to face the Tigers.

Grem Volleyball Teams Split 2 At Tipton Monday

Sacred Heart volleyball teams split a doubleheader at Tipton Monday night when the Tipton varsity girls dumped the Gremelin girls, 26-17, and the Sedalians swept to an easy victory in an eighth-grade game, 45-22.

In the varsity tilt, Sacred Heart trailed throughout the game with a halftime deficit of 7-11. But the Gremelin eighth-grade team showed the Tiptonites with points by dominating the first half, 20-6, and then coasting through the second half on 25-16 scoring.

Fry of Tipton topped the varsity scoring with ten points while Bahner led Sacred Heart with five. Eighth-grade point-making honors went to Pfeiffer who rolled up ten for the Gremelins, followed by Prestaje of Tipton with six.

Sacred Heart cagers will see action tonight at 7:15 in a non-conference contest at Knob Noster.

Strikeout King May Retire From Play

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Feller, the Van Meter, Iowa, ploughboy who grew up to become the major league strikeout king and one of baseball's greatest of all pitchers, is seriously thinking of retirement after 21 years with the Cleveland Indians.

A friend of Feller's advised the Associated Press today that the former fireballing righthander, who turned 38 last month, had told him he had just about made up his mind to retire from the player ranks and accept an offer of a job in the Indians' front office.

(In a phone conversation with the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Feller said he hadn't made up his mind yet. "I will return to Cleveland later this week and plan to confer with Hank Greenberg before Christmas," he said. "I hope to reach a decision at that time.")

Feller is now attending a meeting in New Orleans of the Baseball Players' Association of which he is president.

"Bob had his mind pretty well made up when I talked to him," Feller's friend declared. "At first he was determined to continue on the active list, if not with the Indians then with another big league club. Now I believe he is convinced he would be crazy to hang on."

Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg, who had offered the front office job to Feller, said he had received no word from the former Indian ace who for the first time in his brilliant career last season failed to win a game after racking up 266 triumphs against 162 defeats.

"I certainly hope it's true," Greenberg declared.

"I offered him the choice of taking his release and pitching for some other club," Hank said, "or accepting a job with us in the front office so he could learn the business end of baseball."

Feller won more games than any other hurler in Cleveland history despite three and a half year's service with Uncle Sam, was used only four times as a starter last season, losing all four.

Only two years ago, at the age of 36, Feller turned in a sparkling 13-3 record but slumped to 4-4 the following year. A six-time 20-game winner, Bob reached his peak in the 1939-41 seasons, winning 74 games in those three years. After his service discharge he came back to win 26 games in 1946.

Tom Keane, Dartmouth College golf coach, is a former president of the New Hampshire PGA.

Victor Borge To Present Music Comedy

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Victor Borge, the eminent philosopher and observer of human nature who both plays and does not play the piano, was busy rehearsing. For the perplexed stage hands.

Tonight he presents his second one-man "Comedy in Music" on CBS Television. Since he is the entire cast and never is sure of what he's going to do until he does it, rehearsal seemed rather futile. But rehearsal he did.

So this left Mrs. Borge to talk with — which is pleasant. She's much prettier than her husband. He was relaxed before show-time. But she confessed to slight tension. Look, for example, at the program notes he had given CBS:

"Act I. (1) Borge's entrance (This is sure!). Borge at piano—? (3) Borge not at piano—? Intermission—? Act II. (4) Borge (5) Borge. (6) Borge."

Somewhere in there," said Mrs. Borge, "he is expected to conduct a 42-piece orchestra. And he will. I have every faith in him. I don't know why I get so tense about these things sometimes. Some people have nerves for show business. I don't. I'm always in a mad rush and he's always so slow."

Although she may believe she hasn't show business nerves, Mrs. Borge shows a lot of it. She travels almost constantly with Borge on his concert tours. She also is the busy mother of five Borge children.

"He's a great deal more serious than most people would expect," said Mrs. Borge. "Basically he's a philosopher. His outstanding trait is a great kindness. He never does anything that would hurt anyone. Even on the stage, you must have noticed, he never makes fun of anyone."

"He loves to laugh and make people laugh. I couldn't have chosen a better playmate for my children. In many ways he's a better housekeeper than I am. He took charge of all the decorating of our house at the farm, for example."

Riesel Case Trial Delayed Until Spring

NEW YORK (AP)—Trial of Johnny Dio, who the government contends masterminded the acid-blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel, has been postponed until next spring.

Selection of a jury was to begin today.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands yesterday ordered adjournment of the trial until April 24 over bitter objections of defense counsel on the court's own motion for adjournment. Herlands said the four-month delay was necessary for Dio and three others to get a fair trial. The judge said he wanted public emotions to simmer down.

The government took no position on adjournment.

Herlands' ruling, which came at a pretrial hearing, surprised both defense and prosecution counsel.

Riesel, whose column is syndicated nationally, was permanently blinded by a thug who threw acid in his face outside a Broadway restaurant April 5. Three other men were given prison sentences last week as conspirators.

The government charges the attack on Riesel was aimed at intimidating him in connection with a racket investigation into the garment and trucking industry.

Dio, whose real name is John Dioguardi, jumped up and ran over to talk to his attorney, William Kleinman, when Herlands made his announcement of adjournment.

The others accused with Dio, 41, of Point Lookout, N. Y., are Theodore (Teddy Ray) Rig, Charles Tuso and Charles Salvatore Carino.

Abe Telvi, the man the government says threw the acid at Riesel, was found shot dead, gangland style, on the lower East Side last July 28.

Kleinman charged that the prosecution would appreciate a delay in the trial to give it time to "work" on the three Dio codefendants—Gondolfo Maranti, Leo Telvi and Domenico Bando—convicted before Herlands last week.

Kleinman said the government had hoped to turn Maranti and Bando into prosecution witnesses once they were convicted.

Spellman Tells US Of Brief War Warning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The United States, says Francis Cardinal Spellman, "may get only 60 minutes warning if war comes."

The Archbishop of New York, arriving by plane yesterday from the Far East, told newsmen at the airport:

"The slaughtering of people in Hungary should give Americans the firm, definite impression that we must be alert and on our guard."

The cardinal represented Pope Pius XII at the National Eucharistic Congress at Manila and then visited American servicemen in Okinawa and Japan.

He leaves for New York today, and plans to spend Christmas with this country's servicemen in Greenland.

Urge Special Prayers For Guidance in UN

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of three major faiths in the United States — Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish — have urged special prayers this weekend "for divine guidance for the United Nations." The appeals came yesterday from the National Council of Churches, the National Catholic Welfare Conference and the Synagogue Council of America.

Viet Nam People Give $70,000 to Hungarians

NEW YORK (AP)—Tran Van Choung, Viet Nam's ambassador to the United States, has presented a check for $70,000 to the International Rescue Committee to help refugees from Communist oppression in Hungary.

Tran said the money came almost entirely from small individual contributions by the people of South Viet Nam.

Thief Returns Funds After Newspaper Story

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP)—The daily Amsterdam Recorder and Democrat described the thief who took a muscular dystrophy fund coin box from a food store as "the meanest person in the world."

A bundle of newspapers left outside the same store contained an envelope. Inside was $2.49 and a note: "From the meanest person in the world."

The newspaper comment followed the theft Dec. 3.

Wind Scatters Charts To Competing Co.

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A capricious windstorm whipped through the El Rio field office of the Standard Oil Co. of California and scattered a carton box filled with log charts and graphs recorded by electronics devices in the drilling of oil wells.

Engineers and office workers recovered most—but not all — the charts.

Scouts of competing companies have been calling to offer thanks for the charts on previously top secret wells drilled in this area by Standard.

Congressmen May Try New Red Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ineffectiveness of two congressional efforts to provide punishment for Communist-led labor unions raised the prospect today that the nation's legislators may try again next year.

The first effort was contained in the 1947 Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act, the other in the Communist Control Act of 1954.

The Supreme Court yesterday vetoed a four-year drive by the National Relations Board to punish unions with leaders found to have filed false non-Communist affidavits under the 1947 law requirement. The court said the leaders could be punished, but not their unions.

The Communist Control Act, vested in the Subversive Activities Control Board the power to strip Red-infiltrated unions of the NLRB's vital help in obtaining and enforcing bargaining rights. But two cases initiated over a year ago under that law by Atty. Gen. Brownell never have gotten past legal preliminaries.

The Eisenhower administration is presently planning a new set of proposed revisions in the Taft-Hartley labor law to present to Congress in January. Consideration of any such proposals inevitably would include the matter of dealing with Communist-led unions.

In its unanimous ruling yesterday the Supreme Court held in two cases that the sole penalty in the Taft-Hartley law is one against officers who file fake affidavits from officers of unions which wish to use the NLRB processes.

The two cases involve the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the International Fur and Leather Workers Union, the latter now a branch of the AFL-CIO Amalgamated Meatcutters. Both the Mine-Mill and the Fur-Leather Unions were among those the old CIO ousted for alleged Communist domination.

Ben Gold, former Fur Workers president, and Maurice Travis, former Mine-Mill secretary-treasurer, were convicted of filing false non-Communist affidavits, quit their union jobs and are now appealing their convictions.

Boulder Kills Man On Last Day of Job

SONORA, Calif. (AP)—Arthur Carlson, 56-year-old carpenter, had planned to work only one more day on the Tri-Dam project at the headwaters of the Stanislaus River.

He went into a building at the bottom of the canyon for a drink yesterday morning. A boulder about 100 feet long and 30 feet wide, undermined by rains and freezing water, suddenly slid 70 feet down the canyon wall and crushed the building. Carlson was killed.

Had it come an hour later, 100 men would have been eating breakfast in the building.

Miss Universe Starts Career In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Carol Morris, Miss Universe of 1957, is embarking on an acting career with her pretty blue eyes wide open.

The statuesque beauty from Ottumwa, Iowa, has reported to Universal-International to begin her contract. Her first role is as a chorine in "Man of a Thousand Faces," and she has a total of one line.

Whether or not her roles get bigger depends on her ability, and she's realistic about it.

"I know the odds against beauty contest winners' making a go as actresses," she remarked. "Not many have made it, and I can see why. Because a girl is good looking — that's no reason she can become an actress."

"It takes a lot of study and training to learn acting. Right now I'm going to classes at the studio and studying as hard as I can. I hope I can make it. But if I don't, I'll go back to college and get my degree."

Carol still seems a bit awed by all that has happened to her since she won the beauty prize last summer.

From Long Beach she went to New York for a publicity whirl. In a few days, she clocked 24 TV and radio shows. Then she had a triumphant return to Ottumwa.

"I thought at least I would get some rest there," she said. "But I found our house filled with reporters and photographers. One time I walked into my bedroom and there were reporters making notes of everything that came out of my suitcase!"

"She had some more touring, then reported to U-I to begin her training as an actress."

Water Flumes Freeze, Cause Water Shortage

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Gov. Charles Russell has declared Virginia City an emergency area as the first step in seeking federal aid to halt the historic town's week-long water crisis.

The wooden flumes carrying water from a mountain reservoir froze because severe cold weather came ahead of snow cover to insulate the flumes.

If the Department of Interior approves, the governor's office said Stead Air Force Base will be asked to lend the state its weasels to help jar loose the ice.

And federal funds would be asked to pump water from nearby Silver City and American Flats.

In the meantime, many Virginia City residents go to Carson City to take baths and bring home buckets of water. The water company is helping by trucking water in.

Christmas Tree Gone From Roof Top Perch

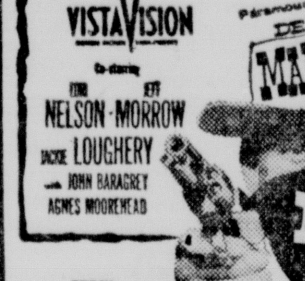

BALTIMORE (AP)—Chief of Police Wilbur C. Wade wondered today if maybe Santa Claus had paid an early visit to Maryland.

He was trying to figure out who could have stolen a completely decorated Christmas tree off the roof of the Dug Out Inn at Marley Park.

"Whoever took it must have flown up there," he said. "There was no ladder or ladder marks."

TODAY'S WOMEN
By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Dear girls: If you would like a kitchenette, vanity table or bottle warmer built into your next automobile, just write to Harley J. Earl, vice president in charge of styling, General Motors, Detroit, Mich.

The affable, 6-foot-4 dean of motor car design, who has been dubbed "Mr. Automobile," says all he wants to know is what the ladies want in an automobile and, by gum, he'll give it to them. In New York for the opening of the automobile show, Earl relaxed for a few minutes and chatted about recent discoveries in his business.

Make Child's TV Seat Blend By Recovering With Velvet

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If your youngster insists on having some odd toy around the house that doesn't exactly fit in with your elegant decor, such as one of the over-size animal TV seats, why not treat it to a new costume for the holidays?

Velvet is an ideal texture for the purpose, should harmonize with almost any other fabric used in the home, and may be depended upon for a handsome effect.

The easiest method for covering an old animal toy is to remove the present fabric to form a pattern. Bind the stuffing so that it will not fall apart and ruin the shape. After you have sewed the main sections on the sewing machine, the slits that are left for the insertion of the stuffing may be sewed by hand. If this is a problem use one of the small stapling machines and cover over the staples with beads, pearls, sequins or cording.

One little duck seat became very social indeed when covered in red velvet with pale blue velvet feet and a yellow bill. Only 1 yard of red and scraps of blue and yellow velvet were used. A little space was left open at the bottom of the duck to insert feet. The feet were then cut in small double squares about 2 in., sewed together. These were turned on end with one corner placed into the slit and sewed into the seam.

Eyes may be dressed up as this little duck's were by inserting sequins into velvet-covered shoe buttons.

If you make one of these TV seats from scratch just make an oval shaped pattern at the top and bottom for the duck, mold him of shredded latex or cotton. Draw a duck's head on paper until you get the proper proportions and then make his head out of latex or cotton until it looks like a duck's head. Once you have it shaped it will be easy to mold velvet over it. Fasten the head into the body of the duck before you cover that part.

A velvet Christmas stocking may be made using the pattern of a large stocking. The ankle part should be wide enough to permit gifts to fit into the foot. Pin the pattern to velvet allowing one inch seams. Sew on the machine. Form a monogram, using velvet ribbons and sequins. Sew into place. You may stiffen the stocking with any stiff material if desired or you may line it, inserting the lining and fitting it into place, sewing the whole thing on the machine. Sew the velvet down at top while the stocking is still inside out.
